

"After being made available from my last employment, I was contacted by QS Quest regarding new opportunities. Having not seriously considered working in the Middle East previously I was asked about working abroad which at the time sounded of interest. I was given a full breakdown of how it all worked and 3 weeks later was in receipt of an exceptional offer with a contractor to work in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Every step of the way I was kept informed regarding the visa process and what was going on in the background and found the service very informative and professional. I would recommend any job seeker looking to work in the Middle East to try these guys first." Andrew W